Welcome to West Baton Rouge

West Baton Rouge is our home and just like good friends, we welcome you to our home. Our location just minutes from the states capital city of Baton Rouge, one hour from New Orleans and just minutes from Lafayette and Louisiana's Cajun Country, makes us the perfect hub for adventure in Louisiana's Plantation Country.

Whether it is one of our many unique fairs and festivals, exploring our local history on the great Mississippi River Road or our award winning sugar museum, West Baton Rouge has something for everyone.

Our unique down home style restaurants and family friendly hotels are second to none. Our people are some of the friendliest you will find in the country.

We thank you for visiting our parish and if there is anything we can do to make your stay better, please feel free to call one of the travel professionals at the West Baton Rouge Convention & Visitors Bureau or stop by the Tourist Information Center .

On behalf of the Parish Administration and the West Baton Rouge Council, I welcome you to West Baton Rouge Parish and hope your stay here is one filled with many pleasant memories.

West Baton Rouge Parish President*

West Baton Rouge is "On the River, On the Way" with great accommodations and our location is the perfect hub for adventure in South Louisiana. Every season of the year, anytime of day, there's something to delight you in and around West Baton Rouge Parish.

Looking for ideas, stop by the West Baton Rouge Convention & Visitors Bureau and visit our Tourist Information Center for great day trips, brochures, maps or information on anything in the great state of Louisiana.

We welcome you and hope your visit here is the first of many. Les le bon temps roule!

A Sweet

LOCATION

West Baton Rouge has long had a love affair with the Mississippi River. It was the Mississippi transportation route and the fertile land adjacent to the river that drew the first settlers here almost 300 years ago. Today, West Baton Rouge's sweet location as a key transportation route in the heart of Plantation Country draws visitors from throughout the world.

Not only does West Baton Rouge offer an enticing view of plantation life and the ease and comfort of a smaller community, it is also the perfect hub for day trips to all points of this region.

West Baton Rouge pays homage to its beloved waterway with a new Riverfront Development, complete with brick walkways, benches and decorative lighting. Sit comfortably and view the busy river, its bridges, and the ever changing skyline of Baton Rouge.

While the Mighty Mississippi has special prominence here, West Baton Rouge offers much more! The West Baton Rouge Museum is dedicated to telling the story of sugar cane and early plantation life. It does so in grand style - offering tours of a plantation owner's home and slave quarters, a miniature working model of a sugar mill, and the fascinating stories of life here long ago.

Port Allen

Port Allen was incorporated in 1916, and got its name from Henry Watkins Allen, owner of Allendale Plantation and the last Confederate governor of Louisiana during the Civil War. The beginning of its importance as a transportation hub was noted as early as the mid-1800s, when a major railroad terminal was completed here. Today it is a busy and thriving community of many different industries.

Attractions include the West Baton Rouge Museum, Old Ferry Landing Park and promenade with spectacular views of the Mississippi River and downtown Baton Rouge, Hero's Plaza and Gov. Allen statue, Port Allen Middle School (a beautiful art deco building), and the Port Allen Lock next to the Port of Greater Baton Rouge.

West Baton Rouge Museum

Discover Sugar Country
& its Sugar Heritage

Visit the West Baton Rouge Museum Campus

How sweet it is! The West Baton Rouge Museum is the only museum in the nation that features the history of sugar agriculture from slavery times through the Civil Rights era. The historic structures at the Museum illustrate life on a sugar plantation from the antebellum period (1830-1860) through Reconstruction (1870-1880) to the Civil Rights Era in the 1960s all set on the same plantation, Allendale.

The four-acre campus includes five historic structures

- the Aillet House, ca. 1830, a French Creole cottage that illustrates a small sugar planter's home;
- the Allendale slave dwelling, ca. 1850;
- the Allendale Cabin, ca. 1870, a dwelling for the newly freed slaves;
- and the Allendale Plantation Cabin, ca. 1960, a one-room Acadian style made of old cypress.

The slave cabin housed slaves of Henry Watkins Allen, the last Confederate governor of Louisiana and the man for whom Port Allen was named. Each of the historic structures contains furnishings and utensils of that time period, and museum guides describe life in sugar country.

The museum itself, located within the parish's old Greek Revival style courthouse, features south Louisiana history and art exhibitions. One highlight of the Museum is a 1904 22-foot working sugar mill model that shows the process of sugar production from sugar cane to raw sugar.

The museum, which was nationally accredited in 2009, is open from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 2 until 5 p.m. on Sunday. Admission $4 Adults; $2 Seniors, children, Veterans, AAA members. Located at 845 North Jefferson Street in Port Allen. Phone: (225) 336-2422 or 1-888-881-6811 www.westbatonrougemuseum.com

Get A Close Up View Of Lock Operations

The heavily used Port Allen Lock connects the Mississippi River to the Intracoastal Waterway, shortening the distance of boat traffic to the Gulf of Mexico by approximately 120 miles. The massive Lock structure, built in 1961, has 90 ton doors and 64 feet sides. A Visitors Center, scheduled to open in October 2010 will provide an interactive model of the lock, a wildlife management presentation and videos. After browsing the center, visitors can go to the local wall to view tugboats locking through. Hours: 8 a.m. - 2 p.m. Monday-Friday. Large schools or tour groups should make reservations by calling 225-343-3752. International visitors must be pre-approved.

Brusly

Brusly is the oldest settlement in West Baton Rouge, established in the late 1700s. Still largely a rural agricultural community, Brusly boasts a warm and friendly atmosphere conducive to quiet family life. The town was incorporated in 1901, and today it is growing at a rapid rate, with several new residential developments, along with retail businesses establishing there. A driving tour of the area includes Sandbar Plantation Home, Cinclare Sugar Mill, the Lockmaster's House, Hebert House, St. John the Baptist Catholic Church and the historic Back Brusly Oak, believed to be more than 400 years old.

Addis

The Town of Addis was founded in 1882, when a major railroad line established a depot there as part of the railroad line from New Orleans to Texas. Originally named Baton Rouge Junction, the name of the town was changed in 1908 to honor J.W. Addis, the railroad superintendent who convinced the company to build a depot, hotel, roundhouse and other facilities in Addis.

By 1920 businesses thrived and Addis became a commercial hub. That changed after World War II. Today, the rail line through Addis remains important to the chemical industry, and residents love its small community atmosphere. Attractions include the Addis Museum located in the old Bank of Addis, and Addis Railroad Historical Park.

Erwinville area

While not incorporated, Erwinville is a vibrant residential area of West Baton Rouge that boasts a beautiful park and community center. It is also home to State Capitol Raceway.

DAY TRIPS FROM WEST BATON ROUGE

PLANTATION RIVER ROAD SOUTH

10a.m. - Begin your plantation Country tour at the West Baton Rouge Museum. Experience pre-Civil War life in the South and learn about sugarcane from the field to the factory. View 5 historic houses including the 1850 Allendale Slave cabins, a Circa 1830 French Creole plantation home 22-foot model of a real sugar mill.

11:30-1 p.m. - On to Nottoway Plantation Restaurant & Inn, the largest plantation home in the South. Built in 1859, this Greek Revival and Italianate mansion boasts 53,000 square feet. Have lunch in the elegant yet casual Mansion Restaurant. (Hwy. LA -1, South)

2:15 p.m. - A tour at Laura Creole Plantation details the life of women, slaves, children, and is said to be the best history tour in the U.S. (Hwy. LA - 1, South - Hwy. 18)

4 p.m. Arrive at Oak Alley Plantation - The most photographed plantation in the South. Located in Vacherie on Hwy. 18, it is a National historic landmark. Dine at The Cabin Restaurant on your way back to your West Baton Rouge hotel. Unique in the entire world, The Cabin began as one of the ten original slave dwellings of the Monroe Plantation, and is approximately 150 years old.

A DAY IN CAJUN COUNTRY

8:00 or 10 a.m. departure - Head west from your hotel on Interstate I-10. You are just 30 minutes from your first stop at McGhee's Landing, Inc., Exit #115 at Henderson.

Swamp tour- Your swamp tour will take you into the interior of one of America's greatest river swamps, the Atchafalaya Basin.

Lunch - On the bayou at Pat's Restaurant. After lunch, travel down I-10 to the next Exit #109. Take Highway 31 to St. Martinville, the place where Cajun began. Continue to travel south on Highway 31 to New Iberia and follow the signs to Avery Island.

Avery Island - Take a tour of the factory, see how the hot peppers are grown, and how Tabasco sauce is made and used. Tour the Tabasco Pepper Factory, and then enjoy the Jungle Gardens and the Bird Sanctuary.

A Cajun dinner – From Avery Island travel north to Lafayette for some true Cajun music and food at Prejean's on I-49. After dinner return to your West Baton Rouge Hotel just 45 minutes away.

A DAY IN NEW ORLEANS

8:30 a.m. - Depart from your West Baton Rouge hotel and travel approximately 90 miles to the French Quarter in New Orleans on I-10 East. Arrive downtown New Orleans at about 9:45 or 10 a.m.

10:00 a.m. - First stop is Café Du Monde for coffee and beignets in the French Market near Jackson Square.

10:30-12:30 p.m. - Tour the famous Jackson Square. Visit the Cabildo, the site for the signing of the Louisiana Purchase. See the Presbytere's splendid Mardi Gras regalia, and at the Old U.S. Mint see memorabilia and photos in the Jazz exhibit, including Louis Armstrong's first horn. Stroll the square's many shops, and be entertained by street entertainers and artists.

12:30-2:00p.m. - Lunch time in the French Quarter.

2:00 p.m. - (Option One) Visit the Aquarium of the Americas, one of the top five aquariums in the U.S., and the Entergy IMAX Theatre. If time permits cross the street to visit the Riverwalk, located on the Mighty Mississippi.

2:00 p.m. - (Option Two) Take a river cruise on one of several steamboat lines. Various points of interest and destinations available. See the steam engine room, listen to a jazz band, and enjoy the steam calliope concert.

4:30-5:00p.m. - Return to West Baton Rouge and dine at a place of your choosing.

A DAY CLOSE TO HOME IN BATON ROUGE

10 a.m. - Visit the USS KIDD. Walk the decks of the historic warship and nautical center on the Mighty Mississippi. See a full scale model of the USS Constitution gun deck and tribute to General Chennault's Flying Tigers; a fully restored P-40 fighter plane.

Note: A free trolley is available Monday – Friday from 10:30a.m. until 2:30p.m., providing transportation among downtown attractions.

11 a.m. - Walk across the street one block north to the Old State Capital. This beautiful building houses Louisiana's political and governmental history.

Noon - Walk back across the street to the Capital City Grill for a scrumptious meal or try many other downtown restaurants within walking distance.

1:15 p.m. - A few blocks west is the Old Governor's Mansion, a Georgian style building constructed in 1930 to look like the U.S. White House.

2:30 p.m. - The Louisiana State Capital began as the dream of one man- Huey Long. It has since become a symbol of the pride, the history and the spirit of the people of Louisiana. Constructed in the 1930's, it is the tallest capital building in the United States at 450 feet high. The view from the 27th floor is spectacular.

3:30 p.m. - Tour the Louisiana State Museum, across from the State Capital; or Option 1 - Go shopping at the Mall of Louisiana, Exit #162.

Option 2 - Visit the Rural Life Museum. The Museum is a 450- acre research plantation including a commissary, overseer's house, kitchen, slave cabin, sick house, school house, blacksmiths shop, sugar house and grist mill and barn. Exit #160.

7 p.m. - Dine at a restaurant close to your West Baton Rouge hotel or choose from the many great Baton Rouge Restaurants.

A DAY IN PLANTATION COUNTRY NORTH

9:00 a.m. - Leave your West Baton Rouge Hotel for St. Francisville.

(I-110 North to Hwy. 61)

9:50 a.m. - Arrive at your first stop, Rosedown Plantation. Glorious, century old gardens at Rosedown and Afton Villa, inspired by the fabulous gardens of the 18th century France, have been restored to their original grandeur.

11:00 a.m. - Dine at the famous OxBow Restaurant next to the Myrtles Plantation, known as the most haunted house in the South.

1:30 p.m. - Travel into the woods to Greenwood Plantation. Built in the 1830 Greek Revival style, it burned in 1960, was restored and was the location for several movies, such as North & South.

2:30 p.m. - Stroll quaint antique stores, gift shops and artists' galleries in downtown St. Francisville. After shopping, return home to your West Baton Rouge hotel.
